Createspace, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Ethan Froebel (illustrator). 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Anna Haman experienced an extraordinary life and writes with surprisingly clever perception of her people and her times - ranging from Eastern Europe under the thumb of Nazi and Soviet interlopers, to a wild understanding of Astrology, and life in the American West. She casts her own net of personal recollections and reflections, while inviting the reader into worlds they may have only seen on the surface. Get ready for quite a ride - at times you may find it a little hard to keep up with Anna, but stay with her and you will come to know a very rare and rich personality and several of her worlds. By Richard Polese previous president of New Mexico Book Association, Santa Fe, New Mexico USA Everybody loved Anna, a beautiful, precocious and strong - willed girl. Anna Haman grew up during the 1950s and 1960s in an ancient grist mill operated by her family in a German village. Her memoir vividly details growing up in a loving, extended family. Yet it is also a history of a family stalked by multiple tragedies- personal, collective and social- that shaped Anna's life. Some derived from World War II; others were of unrelated and mysterious origins. Anna's mother's family had a liberal Christian tradition. When helping local Jews being deported, they ran afoul of the Nazis. Her wealthy father's family was from Russia but was forced to move to a farm in Poland that had been confiscated from its Jewish owners. He was conscripted by Hitler's army and later imprisoned by Stalin, which manifested later in family deprivation and violence. By Constance Albrecht senior grant...
